Letters from Blythe®

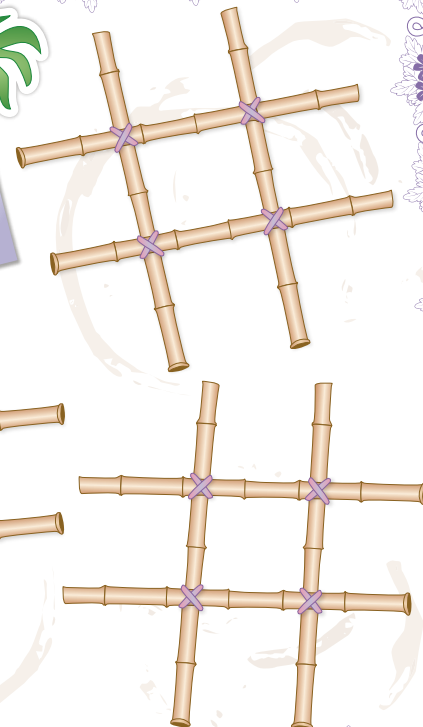

Meet
PENNY LING™

Hey there! Yesterday Penny and I ate lunch at a little teashop. Everything was fine until she knocked over the sugar bowl. That knocked over the teapot, which knocked over the cream, which spilled all over me! She started to cry, but I gave her a hug and she cheered right up. She'll be less clumsy when she's older... I hope! Love, Blythe

While Penny and I waited for our tea, we played tic-tac-toe. Play a few rounds with a friend!
